

TIP: Before you write on any cards, prepare some in advance by using your flash card template (simply an extra blank flash card with a hole punched in the upper left corner) as a guide (if you're keeping your cards on a ring).

STATES/PROVINCES, COUNTRIES, CAPITALS, AND FEATURES

On the front of the flash card (the blank side), write the name of the state/province or country in large print. In the bottom left corner, write the name of the continent (and the country in parentheses, if the flash card is for a state/province):

On the back of the flash card (the ruled side), write the word "Capital:" followed by the name of the city. Under that, write the word "Features:" and list any notable features bordering or contained within that state/province or country:

GEOGRAPHY TERMS

On the front of the flash card (the blank side), write the geography term in large print. (Optional: Also draw a picture representing the term on the front of the card to give yourself a visual reference.):

On the back of the flash card (the ruled side), write the word "Definition:" followed by the definition for that term (from a dictionary). Also on the back, write the word "Example(s):" and include an item or two, if possible — especially from the list of features for the current country/continent of study:
